

Vincent Lloyd, PhD

Associate Professor of Theology and Religious Studies | College of Liberal Arts and Studies at Villanova University

Villanova, PA, US

Vincent Lloyd, PhD, researches issues and trends related to religion in politics and race, and how these areas affect social change.

Biography

Dr. Lloyd is an authoritative voice on current issues and trends related to religion in politics as well as religion and race. He can comment on how religion influences these two areas to affect social change. Lloyd's research focuses on religion and mass incarceration from various perspectives including religious thought regarding crime and punishment and religious movements in prisons.

Industry Expertise

Education/Learning, Research, Writing and Editing

Areas of Expertise

Religion, The Role of Religion in Racial Justice Organizing, Religion in Politics and Race, Religion in Mass Incarceration, Religious Ideas of Crime and Punishment, Religious Movements in Prisons, Theology

Affiliations

Co-Editor, "Political Theology", Steering Committee, Theology & Continental Philosophy Unit, American Academy of Religion, Member, American Academy of Religion Publications Committee, Senior Fellow, Religion and Its Publics Project, University of Virginia, Associate Editor, "Brill Research Perspectives in Theology"

Education

University of California, Berkeley
PhD

University of Chicago, Divinity School
Exchange Scholar

University of California, Berkeley
MA

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.