

Zining Li, Ph.D.

Associate Professor of Accounting, College of Business Administration at Loyola Marymount University

Los Angeles, CA, US

Biography

You can contact Zining Li at zining.li@lmu.edu. Zining Li is an associate professor of accounting at Loyola Marymount University, where she teaches financial and intermediate accounting courses at the undergraduate level. Her research expertise includes financial reporting, executive compensation, internal control and goodwill impairment. Her research on these topics has been published in Contemporary Accounting Research, the Review of Accounting Studies, among others. Zining earned a bachelor's degree in economics from Zhongnan University of Economics and Law in China, a master's degree in applied economics from the University of Minnesota, and a Ph.D. in accounting from the University of Minnesota. She was previously on the faculty of Southern Methodist University in Dallas and has professional experience as a governmental auditor.

Areas of Expertise

Financial Reporting (US GAAP and IFRS), Executive Compensation, Internal Control, Goodwill Impairment

Education

University of Minnesota

Ph.D. Accounting

University of Minnesota

M.S. Applied Economics

Zhongnan University of Economics and Law

B.S. Business Economics

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.